Flag Day Speaker Says Citizens Have Responsibilities If They Wish To Be Free; Parade Is Held

"There is more to being an American than enjoying the privileges it offers," Lt. Col. A. W. Akin, senior instructor of the organized corps of reserves of Pennsylvania, declared Monday night in a Flag Day address which was a part of the annual Elks Flag Day exercises in Lincoln Square.

"With privilege goes responsibility, and if the responsibilities of citizenship are not fulfilled, the rights of the citizen will be lost," Col. Akin said.

"Throughout the nation Americans are paying their respects to our flag. It is fitting that they should pay formal homage once each year, but it is not merely by what we do on Flag Day that we display our respect for our national standard and the things for which it stands. Rather it is by our daily acts in behalf of our national welfare that we demonstrate our patriotism and our unwavering devotion to the principle that men are free to seek their individual and national destinies in the way they consider best.

"Need All Our Strength"

"In the difficult and dangerous world of today we have need of all the strength we can muster, not only the strength of physical things but of those intangible powers that can be neither seen nor felt, the powers of the mind and the spirit.

"The freedoms we cherish face one of the greatest threats to their existence that has developed since the idea of freedom first took hold in the human mind. Powerful forces, controlling a large portion of the earth's surface have dedicated themselves to eliminating individual freedom. For freedom they would substitute the iron hand of the super-state, which exists only for its own perpetuation, and reduces the individual to the status of the slave.

Targets Of Offensives

"We, the Americans of today, are the ultimate targets of this all-out offensive. We have no monopoly on freedom, but by our position of great national strength and prosperity we are the leader of the free nations and the one obstacle that must be overcome before tyranny can have any hope of extending its sway over the entire globe. There is nothing vague or remote about the dangers that face our country. They exist here and now.

"No single American can take refuge in the easy belief that he has no personal problem. The first requirement for good citizenship is an understanding of the need for it, the Dietz Smith, of the York Rotary club, outlined the method by which his club has aided 104 young men to attend college during the course of a talk Monday evening before the local Rotary club at the YWCA.

The fund started when members put in about $2,000 of their own money, and since its establishment has paid off all of the original indebtedness and for years has been self-sustaining, Smith said.

At one time 19 students received aid simultaneously. At present time nine students a year obtain loans, he said.

USSR FIGHTS TO OUST CHINESE NATIONALISTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Russia and her satellites yesterday boycotted another United Nations organ (the important conference on technical assistance to backward areas) in the Soviet drive to force the peace organization to oust the Chinese Nationalists and give their seat to the new Chinese Communist government.

That is the thirtieth organ the Soviet bloc has given the cold shoulder in the Red campaign against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government, which was one of the five Allies in the world war. It makes clear that whatever good, if any, may come out of U.N. Secretary General Lie's recent conference with Marshal Stalin in Moscow, it hasn't altered the Soviet tactics of obstruction in the peace organization.

This development, of course, further widens the division of the peace organization into two camps—the Reds and the democracies. That operation, if continued, can only mean the ultimate separation of the blocs into two distinct organizations. We must face such a contingency squarely.

As a matter of fact it would be an astonishing thing if the U.N. could be made to work successfully with the present set-up. The fight between communism and democracy has divided the globe into two worlds whose ways of life are so wholly different that we are engaged in a cold war which in many instances has boiled over into a "shooting" conflict.

President Truman has warned that the Soviets are "fomenting aggression and preparing for war." The conflict can only be avoided by making the Western world so strong that the Muscovites won't dare fight. Such is the background of the new collective military measures which the Western Allies are taking to prepare for defense. Moscow points to these developments and charges that the capitalist nations themselves are getting ready to make war.

Purely Incidental

Certainly there is no balm in the U.N. Gilead which will cure this situation. That is true because the Soviet campaign within the peace organization is part and parcel of the "cold war" which is being waged for the spread of communism to all lands. So long as this situation continues, just so long will the U.N. be largely hamstrung.

The ejection of the Chinese Nationalists and the seating of the Chinese Communists in the U.N. couldn't alter the position materially. It is purely incidental as compared with the Soviet program of communizing the whole world.

All this naturally is confusing to the average citizen, and the question arises as to whether the U.N. should continue to try to operate under such conditions. The answer to this perhaps is that we never should stop trying to achieve what is right, even if the obstacles seem insurmountable.

READING TOPS CANNER 9 FOR PIAA HONORS

Reading high, perennially a powerhouse in scholastic baseball, handed the Biglerville high nine a 16-2 drubbing on Stump field, Lancaster, Monday evening to gain the District 3 PIAA baseball championship.

Cochman Russ Kane's Cannors, who won the Adams County league honors and then defeated Lemoyne and Blain to enter the district final, were limited to but two hits, both by Tuckey, by a trio of Red Knight hurlers.

Reading, co-champion of the Central Pennsylvania league during the past season, led all the way and capitalized on seven miscues by Canner fielders. A nine-run sixth inning removed all doubt as to the final outcome.

Pitzer and Bushman divided the hurling for Biglerville and gave up a total of nine hits, the former fanning six batters to top the hurlers in that department.

During the county loop schedule the Cannors recorded a mark of 9-2 giving them the creditable season's record of 11 wins against but three defeats.

Athletics Won't Be Sold This Season

Philadelphia, June 13 (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics will not be sold this season.

But the Philadelphia American league club managed by Connie Mack during its 50-year history still is for sale at the right price, the club owners announced yesterday.

And James P. Clark, trucking executive and president of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football league, reiterated a syndicate he heads is preparing an offer.

A management statement said that the club owners will listen to any bona fide offers when they are presented.

"But even if we should receive an attractive offer, one worthy of consideration, it would take months to straighten out the details in connection with such a transaction."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 13 (AP)—Leading pitcher on the Bradley U. baseball team, a contestant in the college World Series at Omaha this week, is Harmon Groover. He's also the third-ranking student in a graduating class of 1,028. Bradley fans don't think this team, their first to qualify for the NCAA tournament, is such a much. Two years ago the Braves won 30 of 35 games, closing with a 23-game winning streak. The Tufts lads, who can easily qualify as the tournament "unknowns," aren't known to the scouts. Outfielder Rudy Pobert has been working out with the Browns and likely will sign with them; pitcher Bud Niles also is a major league prospect and seven players are due to play semi-pro ball in New England and Nova Scotia this summer. Incidentally, the coaches will give the summer ball rules a severe verbal overhauling at their meeting Friday. They don't understand why track men can run 12 months a year; footballers drill most of the time but in some conferences baseball is severely restricted.

YANKS HOPE TO PULL DEAL FOR PITCHING AID

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Seriously disturbed by Detroit's solid strength, the New York Yankees remained hopeful today of making a major deal before the Thursday midnight deadline.

The world champions have more respect than ever for the Tigers after watching them bounce back from two Yankee Stadium defeats to win the finale and then sweep three straight at Boston.

Many of the Yanks now regard the Tigers instead of the Red Sox as "the team to beat." Boston lost plenty of prestige by dropping four in a row after rolling up that 29-4 score on St. Louis last week.

Pitching is the big Yankee problem. It's the same story in Boston. The difference is that New York owns excess talent that could help other clubs.

In that category go second baseman George Stirnweiss, catcher Ralph Houk or Gus Niarhos, pitcher Don Johnson and an outfielder.

Only Seven Hurlers
The Yankee pitching situation is desperate. Johnson, sidelined by a skin ailment, remained in New York when the club headed west. That left Casey Stengel with seven pitchers, including Joe Page and Duane Pillette. The latter just recalled from Kansas City. Page, troubled by a sinus condition, has pitched only one inning since June 3.

A look at the New York records emphasizes Detroit's sizzling pace. Although they still trail the Yanks by a half game in the won and lost columns, they're out front by .002 in percentage points.

Since they left Briggs Stadium, the Tigers have won 10 and lost two. It is well known that Detroit is a superior road team. Now they dig in at home for 16 games, starting with three against the Philadelphia A's.

The Red Sox, winning only six of 11 at Fenway Park against the west, ventures into the badlands where they have failed so miserably in the past. First stop for the Sox, now a fading threat, is Cleveland. Then comes Detroit.

The Yanks break in easy with three at Chicago and four at St. Louis before riding into Cleveland and Detroit on their 13-game jaunt. They took 8 of 13 at the Stadium against the western teams.

Despite the telephone number scores at Boston, the St. Louis Browns won 7 of 12 in the east. Now they open at home against Washington.

With Branch Rickey still scouting the circuit for pitching help, Brooklyn comes home to play 16 games at Ebbets Field, trailing St. Louis by two full games.

12-Game Trip
Eddie Dyer's Cardinals piled up an 8-3 record at Sportsman's Park. Now they face a long, tough 17-game road trip, opening in Philadelphia tonight.

The New York Giants were the sensations of the league until they hit St. Louis and dropped a three-game series. Now they come home to the Polo Grounds, where they have played poorly all season, to open against Pittsburgh. In the west, Leo Durocher's boys stepped at an 8-4 pace.

Despite a better-than-500 record of 5-4 in the west, the Philadelphia Phils lost ground in the race. They went away second by 1½ games and came home third by 2½. First team in is St. Louis.

Chicago righted itself above the 500 mark after a dip below during the Giant series and now is tied for fourth place. The Cubs are the real surprises of the league, only six games off the pace. Brooklyn is their first stop.

Boston got off to a terrific road start in Pittsburgh but tailed off and came home tied for fourth place after winning five and losing seven to the west. The Braves get a chance to recoup with Cincinnati leading the invasion for three games.

All games will be played under arcs tonight, including a twilight-night doubleheader at St. Louis.

Eastern League
(By The Associated Press)
For the first time since June 1, a Williamsport pitcher worked a full game last night. Alex Nedelco turned in a 4-3 victory over the Hartford Chiefs. It was the 10th time in 38 Eastern league games that a Williamsport hurler covered the distance.

The game was the second of a doubleheader. Hartford won the opener, 11-8.

The Binghamton Triplets, currently in fourth place, blasted the league leading Wilkes-Barre Indians, 11-3. The Elmira Pioneers edged the Albany Senators, 4-3. The Senators remained four and a half games behind Wilkes-Barre. In an exhibition game at Scranton, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Scranton Miners, 9-3. Third-place Utica was idle.

CONTEMPT CASE AGAINST JAFFE IS CONSIDERED

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Senate investigators today studied the possibility of bringing contempt proceedings against Philip Jaffe for refusing to answer questions about the five-year-old Amerasia magazine case.

Jaffe was the editor of Amerasia magazine when its offices were raided by federal agents who found government documents there.

Contempt citations have been recommended against two other witnesses put to them by members of the Senate Foreign Relations investigating Communist-in-government charges.

They were Earl Browder, former Communist party secretary, and Frederick Vanderbilt Field, whom Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) author of the Communist charges, has called a "Soviet agent." Field denied the accusation under oath, but declined to say whether he is or ever has been a Communist.

Series Of Turndowns
Citations against the two were recommended by subcommittee counsel Edward P. Morgan, but no action has been taken on either.

Morgan told reporters yesterday, after the subcommittee got a series of question turndowns from Jaffe behind closed doors, that he had been directed to draw up recommendations on the possibility of citing the witness for contempt.

Jaffe, acting on the advice of O. John Rogge, his attorney, was said to have declined to answer all but a few elementary questions on grounds the answers might be self-incriminating.

Last year the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that a congressional committee has the right to demand that a witness state whether he is a Communist, in instances where the refusal is based on the argument that Congress can't inquire into political beliefs.

realization that the nation can exist successfully only as its people are prepared to contribute their personal energy toward its perpetuation. To do this they should be aware of whatever dangers their country and their way of life faces.

Home Front Efforts
"We can no longer live in security from direct physical attack. But the defense of the nation is not merely a matter of weapons. Regardless of how well our soldiers, sailors and airmen are equipped, they can be effective only to the degree that they are physically strong, intelligent and loyal. These are characteristics that the armed forces can strengthen through training, but they cannot be created after the uniform is donned. They can be created only in the homes, the schools, the churches and all the other institutions that guide the development of the individual.

The concept of teamwork does not end with the armed forces. They can be strong only to the degree that the nation they serve is strong. The vast output of our farms, our factories and our mines has overwhelmed ruthless and capable enemies. That output was achieved within the framework of an economic system based on free enterprise.

Parade Precedes Exercises
The ceremonies at which Col. Atkin spoke took place on the balcony of the Hotel Gettysburg, and were carried to the audience in the square by a public address system. They followed a parade which formed at the Meade school and marched through Chambersburg street to the square.

Heading the parade was Chief of Police Robert C. Harper on the new police motorcycle, followed by the colors and color guards of the Elks, Albert J. Lentz and Dorsey-Stanton American Legion posts, VFW, Sons of Union Veterans and a contingent from Troop A, 104th mechanized reconnaissance squadron, National Guard.

Other units in the parade included the Blue and Gray band, Gettysburg fire company in uniform and its equipment, and Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and 4-H club members.

Arriving in the square, the colors were lowered by members of Troop A while Bugler Lewis B. Splain blew retreat. The program, with former Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer as master of ceremonies, opened with the playing of "America" by the Blue and Gray band, followed by the invocation given by Rev. Henry E. Reiley, Jr., pastor of the Methodist church.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Degrees Conferred: The exercises incident to the sixty eighth annual commencement of Pennsylvania college began on Sunday morning with the preaching of the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Dr. Elias D. Weigle, of Mechanicsburg.

On Monday afternoon the annual senior baseball game was played on Nixon Field. This bursque was thoroughly enjoyed by all concerned.

The concert of the musical clubs in Brua chapel on Monday evening was the best given by those organizations for some time.

Tuesday morning the annual oratorical contest for the Reddick prize, by the members of the junior class, was held in Brua chapel.

Very enjoyable class day exercises were held on the college campus Tuesday afternoon. Robert D. Clare, of Abbotstown, was master of ceremonies.

The President's reception in Recitation Hall on Tuesday evening was a pleasant affair.

The largest attended meeting of the Board of Trustees that has been held for some time, met Tuesday morning, with Hon. John A. Swope, of Washington, in the chair.

Degrees were conferred this morning in Brua Chapel. Those from Gettysburg who received bachelor degrees are: Paul Bickle, Gertrude Frey, Luther Sieber, Roy Dougherty and Martin Smyser; Miss Emily B. Horner and Maurice Williams received certificates.

Pan Hellenic Ball: The second annual Pan Hellenic ball was held in Xavier hall last Friday evening, under the auspices of C. S. Duncan, D. P. McPherson and C. E. Stahl. The patronesses were Mrs. S. Mc Swope, Mrs. C. S. Duncan, Mrs. W. A. McClean, Mrs. C. H. Huber, Mrs. Wm. Hersh and Miss Young.

Kehn-McGuigan: Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Miss Rebecca O'lie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David McGuigan, of this place, was united in marriage, in the presence of a few immediate friends, at the bride's home, Chambersburg street, to Mr. Harry Luther Kehn, of Hanover. The wedding party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Miss Annie Schriver. Rev. Dr. T. J. Barkley performed the ceremony. Miss Lizzie Tate was flower girl.

The Forty-Third Annual Encampment: Grand Army week has come and gone. The veterans of the Department of Pennsylvania, GAR, held their forty-third annual encampment in this place last week and were so pleased with the town and battlefield that they decided to meet here again next year. The Ladies of the GAR, and the Women's Relief Corps also decided to make Gettysburg their next meeting place.

Tuesday afternoon Governor Stone presided at the reunion of his old regiment, the One Hundred and Eight-seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers.

Last Tuesday evening the Department held a camp fire in Xavier hall. Department Commander Morrison introduced Thomas S. Sample, who presided. The Gettysburg College Glee club furnished the music.

Owing to the absence of President McKinley, who was unable to attend on account of the closing of Congress, there was not the usual interest taken in the parade on Wednesday. From the rostrum of the National cemetery it was reviewed by Governor Stone, Lieutenant Governor Gobin and Past National Commander Robert B. Breath.

Personal Mention: Miss Anna Himes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Himes, of New Oxford, is a member of the graduating class of Swarthmore college.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
ON GETTING A JOB

A young man, just out of college, called to see me about getting a job. I asked him what he wanted most to do. He hesitated, and finally said he wasn't sure. He wanted a job that would pay him at least fifty dollars a week! Without experience, I told him, he would have to have something to give in return for such a salary, and that something, I said, must be ideas.

A young man once went to the great publisher, Joseph Pulitzer, then the famous New York World owned, and asked him for a job. And Pulitzer asked about the same question of the aspirant as I did of the young man referred to, excepting that his answer was that he had no special thing in mind but he had ideas! "Ideas!" snapped the publisher. "Young man, if you have ideas I can give you a job at once."

If I were a young man, and wanted a job, I would decide what sort of a job I wanted. I would then go to the biggest institution where my interests were pointed, and camp at the doorstep until they took me on! That is what I did, as a young man out of college, and it worked. Then, after several years in which I accumulated what I considered sufficient experience, I went into business for myself, in which I have been happy ever since.

There are really more high-grade jobs than there are high-grade men and women to fill them. Sacrifices have to be made by any applicant for a job these days, if he would win out. There are plenty of jobs that remain open for someone to fill them better than they have ever been filled before!

Ideas, initiative, a definite objective in mind, and a willingness to work, and work hard are a few of the essentials that should lead any ambitious young man, or woman, to a good job. Experience comes rapidly to the one who is watchful and alert. There is an interesting book, published each year, called "Who's Who in America," and if this publication is carefully studied, it is interesting to note the humble origin of so many, and the unglamorous jobs first engaged in by those who later became useful and famous.

I got my first job by answering a Want Ad in a Chicago newspaper. Later I founded my present business by telling people how to write and answer Want Ads—and sold the series to nearly every prominent newspaper in America! That money was the only capital I had.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Immortals"

Half a century! Think of that! Taking losses, taking winnings Undisturbed and unafraid. Wonder just how many innings Connie Mack has watched and played?

Fifty years of high endeavor For the game the nation loves. Statisticians now could never Count that sum of balls and gloves. Fifty seasons of umpiring! Is there any way to find Just how oft that means inquiring If the man in blue is blind?

Fifty years of hits and errors By the skillful and unskilled, And that worst of baseball errors: Base on balls with bases filled. Fifty opening games attended, Winning pennants now and then, But with every season ended Planning for the next again.

Fifty years of cheering, booing, By the fans from day to day, Always victory pursuing. Now and then a triple play, Fifty winters spent debating What the players wage should be, That's why fans are celebrating Connie's golden jubilee.

BISHOP FAVORS COOPERATION WITH RED GROUP

Budapest, Hungary, June 13 (AP)—Hungary's largest diocese of the Lutheran church has a new bishop who favors cooperation with the country's Communist-led government.

The new prelate, the Rev. Laszlo Dezser, 36, succeeds former Bishop Lajos Ordass. Ordass last month was released from prison after serving almost 20 months of a two-year sentence for currency speculation. He had been removed from office by a special church court on April 2.

(Both Ordass' conviction and his removal from office were protested by the Lutheran World Federation. He was convicted of failing to report a $500,000 gift from U. S. Lutherans. The federation said the gift amounted to $200,000, that it was transmitted through the Hungarian National bank, and that it thus became a matter of record.)

Attacked Cardinal
Dezser in 1948 attacked Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, head of Hungary's Roman Catholic hierarchy, as a representative of "royalist, feudal absolutism." Mindszenty now is serving a life sentence for treason.

As Lutheran Bishop Dezser took office, Hungary's Catholic bishops in a new pastoral letter replied to a recent speech in which Education Minister Jozsef Reval threatened abolition of religious instruction in secondary schools and curtailment of Catholic orders of monks and nuns.

The bishops urged parents to request religious instruction for their children for the coming school year. They said recent action against some cloisters and monasteries usually had been the work of irresponsible non-official groups.

HOUSE TO PASS RENT CONTROLS

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Swift House passage of legislation continuing federal rent controls on a local option basis was predicted confidently by Democratic leaders today, after the Senate rammed through the compromise measure on a 36 to 28 vote.

The bill, which would keep alive the last of the major wartime controls, on approximately 8,000,000 dwelling units, mostly in big cities, would work like this:

1. The federal rent control authority, due to expire June 30, would continue for a year.
2. But the controls would cease automatically in six months, on December 31, in all communities that before that date did not decide affirmatively, through a vote of the local governing body or a referendum of the citizens, to continue the rent ceilings on to June 30, 1951.
3. Any community could vote itself out from under controls any time before December 31. No community could restore controls after they were lifted.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told President Truman he is confident the House will pass the bill. The administration had asked for a straight extension of the present law, but Banking Committee Chairman Spence (D-Ky.), a strong administration supporter, said that compromise local option bill "in my opinion is the best we can get through the House."

MAY BOLSTER ATOM DEFENSES

Washington, June 13 (AP)—A still larger expansion of the A-bomb and H-bomb program may be recommended by the Senate-House Atomic committee.

This was indicated today by lawmakers who reported that the subject had come up in a closed door meeting of the committee with members of the Atomic Energy commission.

One member predicted the committee would go along with any new request from the commission. He asked not to be quoted by name. Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the committee, has said in public twice recently that he thought the nation ought to spend more of its defense money on atomic weapons.

The atomic program cost an estimated $2,000,000,000 to perfect the first bomb and billions more have been spent since. Last year, after the announcement of the Russian atomic explosion, President Truman approved an accelerated atomic expansion program costing $200,000,000. Since that expansion go-ahead, Mr. Truman has also directed continued work toward the more powerful hydrogen bomb.

Lawmakers who reported the new expansion discussion said that no figure was estimated for this venture but it could well run into hundreds of millions of dollars.

SOLVE MUSEUM THEFT MYSTERY

Washington, Pa., June 13 (AP)—The great Carnegie museum robbery in Pittsburgh a week ago was not the work of international jewel thieves. It was the coup of a pair of 14-year-old boys.

The tool used to force the cabinet that contained 13 antique watches and other priceless antiques was a Boy Scout knife.

All of this was revealed yesterday with the arrest here of three teenagers from the Pittsburgh area.

The boys were picked up by Detectives John Luongo and Edward Ward when they attempted to pawn one of the stolen watches.

Pittsburgh City Detective Martin McIntyre said the two 14-year-olds told him they robbed the museum last Tuesday after selling peanuts at a baseball game at Forbes Field. They exonerated the third boy.

The teen-agers related how one stood guard while the other used the screw driver of his Boy Scout knife to unscrew a case containing the loot.

Six watches were thrown into Schenley Park Bridge from Panther Hollow because "they were too plain." They were recovered by police.

Police said both boys have previous burglary records. They were turned over to Juvenile Court in Pittsburgh for action.

Meeting at the lodge rooms, the members marched to the cemetery where they decorated the graves of deceased Odd Fellows. The service there was conducted by Stanley M. Staub, a past noble grand of the lodge. Prayer was offered by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The memorial address was delivered by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church. His topic was "Divine Elements in Memorials."

Following the address, Roscoe W. Rittase read the list of deceased Odd Fellows in Mt. Carmel cemetery and other cemeteries in the vicinity of Littlestown. There were 59 names on the Mt. Carmel list and 17 for nearby cemeteries. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Kammerer.

After the service the Odd Fellows retired to their lodge rooms where a short business meeting was held after which the annual ladies' night program was held. Mr. Staub was master of ceremonies. This program opened with singing of "America" with Mrs. Stanley M. Staub, pianist. Prayer was offered by Ernest R. Sentz followed by the pledge of the flag.

How SMOOTH can a ride be?

THAT'S a question well worth answering before you settle on your next automobile.

For what fun is there—what thrill—in a car that is prisoner to the city streets, slowed down by roads a Buick is built to take in stride?

So we'd like to show you just how much smoothness your money can buy. How levelly you float over cobbles and car tracks—over rutty gravel and wavy black-top—in this stunning traveler.

The car will be any Buick you prefer—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER. You can name the place—pick a spot or a stretch you know so that you can measure Buick's smoothness against your own experience—and we'll promise you a new sensation in riding comfort.

The time can be any time you want to arrange with your Buick dealer—who is ready to show with actual figures that "if you can afford a new car you can afford a Buick."

See him, will you, and treat yourself to some real comfort?

Only Buick has Dynaflo® and with it goes:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the oxles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

STATE POLICE PROTECT MILK TRUCKS ON ROAD

Pittsburgh, June 13 (AP) — State police, acting on orders from Governor James H. Duff, put reinforced patrols on the road today to protect milk truck movements in a seven-county dairy strike area. The governor acted quickly yesterday after reports of dumping of truckloads of milk by armed picket bands in the five-day-old walkout.

The violence occurred between Vanderbilt and Flat Woods, Fayette county, and near Canonsburg, Washington county.

Truck driver O. W. Rittenhouse reported he was halted by armed pickets at Vanderbilt. Rittenhouse said the men forced his truck onto a side road and dumped its load of milk. Buriap bags covered license plates on the pickets' autos, he said.

Get Injunction
Gov. Duff declared in a statement: "These were acts of criminals. They were as criminal as the acts of bandits and will be treated as such."

At Greensburg, Pa., 30 miles from Pittsburgh, Sheriff Howard Bud Thomas had court authority to organize a posse to prevent any violence.

The court grant a preliminary injunction to prevent striking milk workers from adjoining counties from interfering with non-strikers in Westmoreland county.

Witnesses at the hearing on the injunction testified bands of 30 to 40 pickets roved through the county, dumping milk, threatening workers and even strewing tacks on a private highway leading to a dairy.

Union spokesmen have contended there has been no violence.

Proposal Rejected
For a little while yesterday, a break in the strike appeared in the making. The AFL Dairy Workers union indicated a willingness to settle if the dealers would agree to a 40-hour week for inside workers and a daily guarantee for salesmen drivers.

But the proposal was rejected bluntly by the dealers who insisted on arbitrating all the issues. The union which opposes arbitration said they would forget some of their

She flushed scarlet, and he said coldly, "You're a conceited little thing. Listen, chick, I'm not saying I don't like you a lot, but it's not that. It's just that I know you're a good actress, and I don't want you to throw up your career because of an emotional upset which might have happened to any milkmaid. Then again, I'm not in this for my health. From next month on I'll be working for Hamlyn in New York, and Hamlyn particularly wants you for this part. It will be a nice piece of work to arrive home and tell him I have you in my pocket."

She looked at him gravely, and he knew she did not believe him. She had no particular illusions about her own attractions, but she was remembering that he had picked her up in his arms and comforted her when her nerves were at the breaking point and she most needed comfort. He laughed suddenly. "For Pete's sake, Katherine, you learned about love quickly enough. Can't you learn about friendship too? Have we always got to keep accounts as to what we do and don't do for each other? This might just as well be a UN conference. I'll be paid enough if you're successful and happy, and if you justify our belief in you—Morton's, mine, and old Hamlyn's. Now will you think it over?"

She smiled and said, "Thank you, Andrew. You really are the nicest person that ever lived. I will think it over, and I'll let you know." When they reached the flat, he took off his hat and stood back.

"I won't come up. Don't forget: in three days."

"I won't!"
When he got back to his flat, the script of the play Hamlyn had sent had arrived. He telephoned to Broadweir and found that Morton issues for the shorter work week and the guarantee.

The 3,250 dairy workers walked out Friday in a demand for a wage increase. In addition to the 40-hour week they want the daily guarantee raised from $10 to $13.50. The dealers have offered $11. They claim drivers now earn $300 or more a month.

was back from Dublin, so he sent him a wire to expect him, and traveled up on the night train, taking the script with him to read on the way.

A week passed and Katherine had gone back to her aunt and uncle in Wardham, Mrs. Best was, as always, scrupulously fair, and she suggested that Katherine should stay at home for a month and rest before she made up her mind what to do. She knew nothing of William, and she was barely aware of Katherine's brief theatrical successes. She was convinced that her niece had "learned her lesson." Therefore, it came as rather a shock to her one sunny afternoon when she and Katherine were bottling some fruit to have the bell rung and, on answering it, to find a tall, fat, gray-haired man and a fat, black, wheezing dog on the doorstep.

Morton swept off his large black hat, and his voice boomed through the house like a great bell. In the kitchen Katherine heard it, and stood quite still, her heart racing. It was like a summons calling her back to some forgotten life. She bent and carefully put the full jars into the oven, lowered the gas jets, and turned, slowly taking off her apron.

"Good afternoon," the voice said imperatively. "I am Lawrence Morton." He paused impressively, but the petrified Mrs. Best showed no signs of recognition. There was a touch of irritation in his voice as he added, "I wish to see Miss Katherine Best."

Light came to Mrs. Best. This was that awful theatrical man for whom Katherine had worked, and who apparently had overworked her so badly that she had become ill. She drew herself up to protest when Katherine came out from the kitchen. He enveloped her in an enormous embrace, holding her at arms' length, peering at her under his shaggy brows; Lear reunited with Cordelia, and as always, overplaying abominably.

Katherine felt a little like a hunting horse led out of a dark stable scenting and seeing the long fields and the low hedges. It was as though the curtain had gone up, and all the anticipation of the play was before her. Morton, to her, was the theater, the extricated herself from his arms, and with an effort controlled the laughter that Morton evoked, the affectionate mocking laughter of the young which he always aroused.

"This is Mr. Morton, Aunt Edith, whom I worked for in Broadweir. Won't you come in, L. M.?" She maneuvered him into the largest chair, and rather timidly suggested tea.

"Tea!" Morton roared in horrified tones. "I have to get back to-night, my nightingale, and I have come to talk to you!"

Mrs. Best suddenly poked her mind, and when she spoke her mind people usually listened. "I would like to speak to you, Mr. Morton, about the way you overworked Katherine. She was a complete wreck when she came home. I don't know whether—" The rest of her sentence was lost. Morton swept it aside with a gesture that sent a hideous china gnome crashing to the ground.

"I treated Katherine as what she is—an actress! A good actress. One day, maybe, a great actress. I'm not responsible for her emotional entanglements." Katherine's hand moved with a swift warning gesture.

and he went on, "Nightingale, you have been ill and I am sorry. But you are better now. Because you are better I have come to talk this American offer."

"America!" gasped Mrs. Best. "Andy Nolan gave me the play and I read it. It's good. It's a very pleasant thing to be offered a good contemporary play. Nowadays one has so often to rely upon the classics."

"You mean you're going to produce it?"

"I'll only be away a couple of months," he said hurriedly. "If it's a flop, you can come back with me. If not, I'll have to get a new girl for Broadweir next year."

"Wait a moment," said Katherine. "I haven't said I'd go."

"Why not?"

"I'm frightened."

"With me there..."

Katherine went white. "It's not that; it's..."

Morton suddenly turned to Mrs. Best who was standing helplessly, her eyes swinging from one to the other like a spectator at a tennis tournament. "Madam," he said heavily, "I have changed my mind. I would, after my somewhat dusty walk, like a cup of tea. Also, my little dog, if you would be so kind, would like a drink of water. Like myself, he is past his first youth, and tires easily."

"If you want to speak to Katherine alone, why don't you say so? She's her own mistress and can do what she likes, although after this one experience, I must say I had hoped she had learned her lesson."

Dr. Hermann Sander To Be Reinstated

Wolfeboro, N. H., June 13 (AP)—The head of the New Hampshire state Board of Registration in Medicine "presumes" his five-member body will reinstate Dr. Hermann N. Sander.

Dr. J. Paul Dye, board president, said on Sunday he believes Dr. Sander's license to practice will be restored "within a few days after he makes application for reinstatement."

The board revoked the 42-year-old Candia physician's license in April shortly after he was acquitted of murder in the death of a cancer patient. The state group said, however, that he could apply for reinstatement on June 19.

Attorney Ralph E. Langdell, counsel for Dr. Sander, said the application for reinstatement will be filed before June 19 to hasten consideration by the board.

Dr. Sander declined to comment.

Meadville, Pa., June 13 (AP)—A second milk strike is in the making in western Pennsylvania today. It has no connection with the five-day-old walkout in the seven-county Pittsburgh area. The 203 members of Local 564, AFL, General Teamsters, who drive for three firms in Crawford and Mercer counties and at Farmland, Ohio, voted 2 to 1 last night to authorize a strike.

COLONIES ARE BENEFITING BY ERP ASSISTANCE

By CLARKE BEACH

AT Foreign Affairs Analyst

When the European Recovery Program was launched, many a student of history feared it would open a new era of colonial exploitation.

European leaders had proclaimed that Europe must develop its colonies and possessions as an essential aid to Europe's recovery. The questions asked were:

Would they simply drain off the natural riches of the colonies, leaving the natives only with their wages and depleted resources?

Or would they plow a good share of the profits back into the business, enabling the natives themselves to benefit permanently, to raise their standards of living, to develop their own independent economies?

Some U.S. officials are reassured after having had an opportunity to observe how ECA funds have been spent in the colonies, and to study development programs that the European countries have conducted with their own funds.

Sharing Profits

They say there is no doubt that the countries of Europe are showing determination to share the profits of colonial enterprises with the people in the colonies.

About $300,000,000 of ECA funds has been spent in colonial dependencies. In addition, $100,000,000 in counterpart funds has been invested there. One ECA official who works in this field says that a large share of this money is going into projects which will be of permanent benefit to the communities involved.

Norris E. Dodd, director general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture organization said after a recent trip through Africa and other colonial areas that "the need for educating local populations and raising their standards of living as a fundamental requirement of progress" has become a major preoccupation of the governments concerned.

Help Local Populations

"Policy makers," he added, "are apparently realizing more and more that, concurrently with agricultural world development they are responsible for the welfare and education of local populations."

In all the countries he visited, he said, there were programs to promote health, education, rural welfare, credit, transportation, marketing and distribution. Various forms of vocational training were provided. And in all countries the natives were being taught how to grow more food, through demonstrations of modern farming methods.

All this is in sharp contrast to the old colonial system, under which foreign owners simply set up their rubber plantations, their tin, copper or bauxite mines and left the natives with nothing but their coolie wages.

Littlestown

Littlestown—The Littlestown community Daily Vacation Bible school entered its final week on Monday. Following the session Monday morning, there was a faculty meeting to complete plans for Friday, which will be the closing day. The Rev. Kenneth D. James, dean of the school, announced the following schedule for Friday: School will start at 9 a.m. as usual in the grade school building. At 10 a.m., the school will march to Redeemer's Reformed church, where closing exercises will be held by each department of the school. Parents and friends are invited to attend these exercises. An offering will be received to help defray the expenses of the school. The pupils, accompanied by their parents and friends, will return to the grade school building where certificates will be awarded in the classrooms to all pupils who have completed the required work and met the attendance requirements. ## KILLS SELF AT TV TELECAST

Houston, Tex., June 13 (AP)—Houston television followers heard a 50-year-old laundryman commit suicide on Sunday at a Texas league baseball game.

Stanford B. Twente shot himself to death as he sat beside telecaster Dick Gottlieb in a press box at Buffalo stadium. The shot was heard over television and throughout the stadium. Seconds later a TV camera focused on Twente's slumped body.

Justice of the Peace Tom Maes was among those watching the game on television. He returned an inquest verdict of suicide without leaving his home. "I saw the man on television," Maes told Detective George Chapman.

Police had a report a half hour before the shooting that Twente had told a waitress he was going to kill himself and "to watch me at the end of the fifth."

The shooting occurred as pitcher Don Stephens of Houston stepped to the plate to start the last half of the sixth inning against Tulsa.

Twente died in a hospital about two hours after the shooting.

Ultra-violet electric lights are available for installation in chicken houses to cut down disease germs.

FRESH FEARS OF INFLATION PROMPT ACTION

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Fresh fears of inflation prompted bipartisan proposals today that Congress get busy on the job of balancing the budget.

Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) told a reporter he regards the threat of inflation caused by rises in wholesale prices as serious, but possibly not dangerous.

"It strengthens the case for reducing expenditures and balancing the cash budget—that's the best inflation brake," said Douglas, who agrees with the Truman administration on about everything but its monetary policies.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP Policy committee, said in a separate interview that a vigorous drive is going to be made in the Senate to cut appropriations back to the point of government revenue.

"We are adding steadily to the inflationary trend with a deficit that is running about half a billion dollars a month," he said.

Douglas suggested that the federal reserve board wait a month or two to see how the price trend progresses. If prices still are going up then, he said the board ought to sell securities in the open market to force government bonds down slightly.

The Senate Judiciary committee voted yesterday to make an investigation of gasoline prices. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), who sponsored the move, said in a statement that the country is in a period of creeping inflation to which gasoline price increases are contributing.

GRUNDY AIDED COOKE

Harrisburg, June 13 (AP)—Financial statements released by the State Elections bureau show contributions totaling $8,000 by former Sen. Joseph R. Grundy to the Jay Cooke for Governor primary campaign. The contributions were in the counties of Somerset, Bucks and York. Cooke was defeated for the Republican nomination for Governor by John S. Fine, Nanticoke.

PEACHES FREE FROM INSECTS

While brown rot has been making considerable inroads in the county's peach orchards, insects that usually take their toll of peaches are few in number at present, County Agent M. T. Hartman said today.

In a peach spray letter suggesting materials for the second cover spray in peach, the county agent noted that "none of the peach insects is sufficiently abundant in orchards observed at this time to warrant the use of insecticides in this spray."

The spray suggested is either 10 pounds flotation paste surfur or six pounds of 70 per cent sulphur paste to 100 gallons of spray or six pounds of a dry wettable sulfur containing 80 per cent or more sulfur to 100 gallons of spray. The usual warning against using sulfur during temperatures above 85 degrees is contained in the letter.

An apple spray letter, calling for a third cover spray, was also sent out to the growers by the county agent. Hartman noted that new active scab infections are showing up in many apple orchards, and that excessive rainfall has enabled scab to be more active at this stage of apple development than for some time. Codling moth adults are still emerging and larvae are entering fruit and a few leaf rollers are present in some orchards, Hartman said.

Two formulas are recommended for the spray. The first is two pounds of lead arsenate and a pound of Ferbam per 100 gallons of spray and the second is three pounds of lead arsenate, one-half pound of copper sulfate, and three pounds of fresh spray lime per 100 gallons of spray. In connection with the first formula a suggestion is made that where scab is plentiful, or bitter rot is present, the Ferbam should be increased to two pounds. In connection with the second formula, the warning is given, as usual, to avoid using the Bordeaux on wet foliage of such copper sensitive varieties as Golden Delicious, Jonathan and Grimes. If a codling moth problem is present, the lead arsenate may be omitted and two pounds of a 50 per cent DDT wettable powder used.

Norristown, Pa., June 13 (AP)—Ground was broken today for the Valley Forge Heart Institute and hospital, E. S. Van Steenkwyk, executive director of the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia, turned over the first spadeful of soil on the historic Rittenhouse farm in East Norristown, Montgomery county.

COURT UPHOLDS

Harrisburg road and that Walker would not have left Huntingdon township except on orders of the state policeman, and that Squire Wolfe did not have jurisdiction in the case.

The case of Edward Hamaker, Columbia, Pa., charged by his wife with desertion and non-support, was continued to July 10 and Hamaker ordered to continue payments of $25 a week.

A charge of desertion brought by Mary Wisensale, Hanover, R. D. against her husband, W. Ray Wisensale, was dismissed, and the costs ordered paid by the defendant.

The court continued until Saturday morning the case of Luther Silik, Fayetteville, R. 2, charged by his former wife, Mary R. Silik, Biglerville, with non-support of two minor children, to give the latter time to consider a settlement proposed in court.

The case of George Stull, 233 High street, charged with non-support by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Hilty, same address, was dismissed, with costs to be paid by the defendant. Mrs. Hilty charged that Stull failed to support his wife and three children. This was denied by both Stull and his wife.

Clain C. McCreaf, Fairfield, was ordered to pay $5 a week for the support of his wife, Fannie B. McCreaf, Fairfield Station, and to enter his own recognizance to and pay the costs.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 13 (AP)—The friendship for the U. S. being created in Japan serves as a strong democratic barrier against Communist control of that country, says Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger.

"By our actions we have built up in Japan a great reservoir of friendship which perchance we may choose to ignore today," the former commander of the Eighth Army told the Wilkes college graduating class yesterday.

Franklin Township

Gettysburg or Biglerville and have the Gettysburg jointure pay the tuition and the transportation.

After a discussion that lasted nearly an hour, the boards met separately and Dr. L. C. Keefe, supervising principal of the Gettysburg joint school district, told the Franklin township officials upon their return to the joint meeting that the joint board would allow pupils attending the Valley school in Franklin township to choose their high school while those attending the building at Cashtown automatically would go to Gettysburg when they reached high school age. Transportation for high school pupils going outside the jointure would have to be paid by the township, the board said.

Claims Township "Misled" Mr. Kane told the Gettysburg directors that he felt Franklin township had been "misled" at other meetings by being told that Gettysburg's contemplated building program would total $200,000 to $250,000 while the figure mentioned Monday evening went as high as $500,000.

"We told our patrons the building program in Gettysburg would cost not more than $350,000 and now they will think we were lying to them if we go back and tell them it is going to be $500,000," he declared.

Mr. Rohrbaugh said that no figure ever was given on the probable cost of the Gettysburg building program because "no one knows what the figure is going to be." He said that in an earlier discussion with Franklin township directors the figure of $300,000 was selected arbitrarily simply for the purpose of figuring costs involved in the proposed action by Franklin township. "No figure ever was given Franklin township as the final figure for our new building program," he explained.

Would Get Cafeteria Before he left the meeting, Mr. Kane expressed the personal opinion that Franklin township now may join the Upper Adams jointure "in spite of the fact that a majority of the people have voted for Gettysburg." He emphasized that he was not speaking for the board on that point.

During the discussion, one Franklin township director mentioned that if the township joined the Upper Adams jointure "we'll get a cafeteria at the Cashtown building."

Questioned after they left the joint meeting, Franklin township directors said they did not know when final action will be taken on the township's school plans for next year. "We won't decide tonight," Mr. Kane said.

Compare Figures

Figures already submitted to Franklin township voters from the Gettysburg jointure show, Dr. Keefe said later, that Franklin township's obligation in a $500,000 building program at Gettysburg would be only $87,150 as compared with an obligation of $92,100 in a $300,000 building program at Biglerville. The $300,000 figure for Biglerville was mentioned during the evening by Franklin township men as the cost of a current building program there intended to handle school needs for the next five years. References to school census figures indicated that the largest jump in high school populations will come later than 1955.

Keefe Plans To Harrisburg

The Gettysburg joint executive committee got underway with regular business by 10:30 p.m. and later examined detailed blueprints for the two-story addition to the Gettysburg high school building which Dr. Keefe took to Harrisburg for state approval this morning. The general plans were shown the joint district board members at their May meeting and now have been completed in detail.

After state approval is secured, the joint district will be ready to advertise for bids and start work this fall with provisions for a bond issue to pay for the addition to be made by the joint board.

Order School Repairs

Local district property committees were directed to have school buildings cleaned before the opening of the fall term and to have these repairs made: Pitzer's repair lights and flag pole fixtures; Belmont, repairs to toilets and the coalhouse; Boyd's, new blinds and furnace repairs; McCleary's toilet repairs and new light bulbs; McIlhenry's, new window shades and light bulbs; New Chester, pump, roof and light repairs; Good Intent, new flag rope; Hunterstown, crushed stone for grounds and roof repairs; Meade, putty and paint windows; High Street, playground and walk repairs.

The secretary was directed to get bids on the winter coal supply and award the contracts to the lowest bidders.

Monthly reports were submitted by the Gettysburg National bank as joint district treasurer: Fred G. Troxell as Gettysburg Athletic association treasurer. The general school account showed a balance of $17,065 after expenditures of $25,272. The athletic fund balance is $1,116.
